UN & EU accredited conference interpreter & translator (Spanish, French, Italian & Catalan to English) | Interpreting researcher | Trainer in Tech for Word

The conference is addressed to the students of the Degree in Translation and Interpreting of the University of Malaga. It offers a general overview of the existing computer-assisted interpreting tools and the technology used in the preparation of the interpretation. It is also focused on terminology extraction, digital glossaries, the use of tablets during the interpretation (digital consecutive interpreting), hybrid interpreting modalities (SimConsec + SightConsec) and automatic speech recognition.
